It is the second largest island in the U.S. state of Puerto Rico after the island of Luquillo, and is located in the municipality of Toa Alta. History The island's name stems from a legend that it was once home to two pure-blooded Andalusian soldiers, Álvaro de Santiago and Álvaro de Mendaña, who settled on the island and from there founded an independent state, the Santa María de Cayo Santiago. This legend is related in the French chronicler Oliviero Buso's History of Puerto Rico. In 1942, the United States government designated the region of Cayo Santiago as the main staging area for US submarines in the war against Japan. Based on a top-secret military report, issued by the U.S. Navy, the Island of Cayo Santiago. P West - between the Loíza and Parguera Peninsula, where a U.S. Naval Base was established
